Biography of Jessie Woodson-Johnson
Member, Buckingham County Board of Supervisors

Rev. Jessie Woodson-Johnson represents District 7 on the Buckingham County Board of Supervisors. She was elected to the Board in 1995 and has been serving on the Board since January 1996.

Rev. Woodson-Johnson is a life long resident of Buckingham County. She graduated from Buckingham County High School in 1974 and from Smithdeal-Massey Business College in 1975. In 2001, she enrolled at the Virginia University of Lynchburg (formerly Virginia Seminary) and earned a Certificate in Ministry in May 2003, an Associate Degree in Liberal Arts and Sciences in May 2005, and a Bachelors of Arts Degree in Religious Studies in May 2006.

Currently, Rev. Woodson-Johnson is Chair of the Piedmont Senior Resources Area Agency on Aging Advisory Board and is Vice-Chair of the Crossroads Community Services Board. She is also a member of the Buckingham County Department of Social Services, in which she represents the Board of Supervisors.

Rev. Woodson-Johnson was appointed to the Planning Commission in 1990 to represent the Gold Hill District (now District 7), and was the Board of Supervisor's representative from 1996 to 1999. She is also a former Board member of the Local and Central Boards of the Central Piedmont Action Council (now H.O.P.E.), and the Buckingham County Local Public Library.

Rev. Woodson-Johnson is a paralegal and training responsible person, at the Virginia Legal Aid Society in Farmville, Virginia. She has been employed with this organization since 1980. She is also an Associate Minister at the Petersville Baptist Church in New Canton, Virginia.

Rev. Woodson-Johnson resides in the Gold Hill area with her husband, Lonnie. They have four children and two grandsons.
